PLAN TO REVIVE OLD STATE FAIR

Movement Well Under Way With Indication of Success.

GOLF GROUNDS PROBABLE SITE

Location of Hermitage Links Has Been Considered On Account of Race Track, Which Will Be Important Source of Entertainment.

Plans now are definitely under way, projected by the local Post of the Travelers' Portcullis Association, and endorsed by business men generally, practically ensure the holding of this city next year of a great State Fair of such scope as will recall the ancient glory of this institution, once an annual event in Richmond history, but long since abandoned, and up to a brief time ago half forgotten. It was learned yesterday that such a movement, contemplated for some time, has been positively undertaken, that it has progressed to the point of consideration of a site for the exhibition, and that the attitude of such citizens as have been approached is such as to ensure hearty support from the people. Details are not yet known, and will not be made public for some time, but the work is going on steadily, and will, before very long take definite shape, most likely in the organization of a fair association and the securing of a charter from the Corporation Commission. In fact, it is understood that this point has already been discussed in a general way.

What Mr. Lorraine Says.
The plan for a State Fair was originally undertaken by Mr. H. Lee Lorraine, president of Post A, but was later laid by him before the Post, which promptly took the matter up. At the August meeting of the board of directors the proposition was discussed, and it was suggested among other things that the time selected be arranged to correspond with the dates of the next Richmond Horse Show. Mr. Lorraine was authorized on behalf of the Post to make a thorough canvass of the situation, and to make a report, which he will probably submit at the meeting of the board this month. The Post is under the impression that Mr. Lorraine's action, and the crystallization of a sentiment that will produce the fair and bring people to Richmond. The Post will not attempt to float the venture itself. When questioned last night Mr. Lorraine declined to discuss the matter at any length, but admitted that the movement was in a fair way to success. "There is no doubt that we will have the fair," said Mr. Lorraine. "We have received great encouragement from business men and have every reason to expect success for the exhibition. The fair will be held in the fall of the year, but will not be in conjunction with the Horse Show, which is an entirely separate and distinct institution. The question of a site for the fair has not yet been settled."

Possible Site.
In connection with the possible site of the exhibition, it is understood that two places have been considered: the Deep Run Hunt Club, and the Hermitage Golf Club. It is particularly desired that the site contain a good race track for the "sporting" feature of the fair, as in the old days, will be one of its chief features. There is scant possibility of securing the grounds of the Hunt Club, however, grounds of the Hermitage Golf Club would hardly be room enough there and the street car facilities would not be good, and this latter consideration is one of the most important. The site of the old State fair, now used by the Hermitage Golf Club, would, it is believed, prove much more desirable, and this may be finally selected, though it is understood that still a third place is being discussed.

Wherever the fair is located it will, of course, be necessary to erect suitable buildings, since there is no building in the city at the present time adapted to the purpose. Mr. Lorraine said last night that the projectors of the movement were endeavoring to interest Mr. Frank J. Gould, as the owner of the street car system, that would have to handle the crowds attending the exhibition.

What It Would Mean.
More signs than one point to the likely popularity of the movement for a great State fair here. The exhibition would bring to Richmond people from all sections of the State, and would prove of the highest commercial value. Apart from the gathering of people, which would be desirable as a social feature, bringing widely separate sections into contact, the exhibits would advertise the resources of these sections and encourage agricultural and mercantile pursuits of every sort. Years ago the fair was a great success, and the recent records made by some Virginia cities seem to indicate that the time is ripe for a revival of the institution. This is very clearly indicated by the interest manifested in this city.

PRIZE WINNERS AT HORSE SHOW

Watson Leads the List With Thirty-Three Ribbons.
Dunlop Next.

THIRTY AWARDED RIBBONS

More Than Nine Thousand Dollars Were Paid Out As Prize Money.

It is of interest to those who attended the Richmond Horse Show last week to know that the exhibition was a financial success and that steps have already been taken by the management towards giving next year the greatest show in America. One of the judges who has attended every large show held in the United States and yesterday that, barring the show in "The Garden," the Richmond Horse Show was the best he had ever witnessed. Mrs. Bladwell, whose riding and driving for Norfolk, loaded down to the water line with horses and vehicles, bound for the Norfolk Horse Show. Stalls were built on the lower deck and the favorites of the tan-bark ring were as comfortable as though they were in their own stables. Mrs. Bladwell, whose riding and driving played a conspicuous part in the recent show, was on board the "Pocahontas" as well as Mr. and Mrs. Spratley, Mr. Mitchell, Dick Donnelly, Miss Vera Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Fleet Gallows, Charles K. Powness, Mr. Snyder, of the "Blit and Spur," and many others.

Exhibitors' Winnings.

The list that follows, showing the winnings of the various exhibitors at the Richmond show is full of interest. It will be seen that Mr. C. W. Watson, who has presented a $500 cup to the association, to be competed for next year, led the list with a total winning of 33 ribbons, representing $2,470. Mr. David Dunlop came next with 29 ribbons, representing $1,115. The smallest win was $10, and one exhibitor was awarded a white ribbon which had no money value. The total amount of the prizes paid out was $9,088, which did not include the handsome silver cups that were presented by the association to the ladies winning the hunt.

ANCESTRAL WORSHIP STIMULATED BY Togo

Profound Impression is Caused
By His Visit to the Isle
Temple.

(By Associated Press.)
TOKIO, October 15, 11 A. M.—The news that Vice-Admiral Togo worshipped at the Isle Temple is creating a profound impression. It is believed that his act will furnish a lasting example in national religious education, and that ancestral worship will be given fresh stimulation, especially in the army and navy. Admiral Togo has shown his implicit faith in what he said in his report of the great naval battle, when he attributed the Japanese victory to the spirits of imperial ancestors.

RED FLAGS ARE WAVED DEFIANTLY

Thousands of Demonstrators March in St.
Petersburg.

COSSACKS CHARGE; QUELL THE RIOT

A Strike of Printers is Declared
On Political Grounds and
Nearly All the Papers
Have Suspended Publication—Peace
Announced

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, October 15.—For the first time since the advent of M. Trepoff as head of the government of St. Petersburg demonstrations on a large scale took place here to-day, the occasion being the removal of the body of Prince Troubetskoy to the Nikolai station for shipment to Moscow. Students, workmen and spectators gathered in thousands in the streets and demonstrators with red flags paraded boldly through the Nevsky Prospect, the city's main avenue.

The crowds and the processions were several times charged and dispersed by mounted police, but fortunately with no grave consequences. The most serious injuries reported are those sustained by two men who were slashed with sabres. Firearms were not employed by the gendarmes or military, and though the first collision was provoked by a shot from the crowd and a few cases of stoning occurred, the crowds manifested no inclination to resist the police and troops. More Disorder Feared.

The students are exasperated over the several members of a coalition committee chosen by a student meeting September 26th, a renewal of the disorders is not improbable. The serious feature of the situation is that a strike of printers was declared to-night on political grounds, which is to last for a period of three days, but it may be continued longer in case of repressive measures or arrests.

A few of the leading daily newspapers hope to be able to issue a single sheet, giving telegraphic news, but the others will suspend publication entirely. The employees of several factories are ready to follow the lead of the printers, and the authorities are fully alive to the danger that the strike may become a general one.

Red Flags Waved.

Red flag demonstrations in the Nevsky Prospect this afternoon drew out immense crowds of spectators, but a squadron of gendarmes and Cossacks drove the demonstrators away without resorting to force.

There were no disturbances in the industrial quarter of the city. Large forces of troops were held in readiness in the court yards of the barracks and in the university. While speeches were in progress the police again charged and dispersed the crowds. In the melee a workman and a student received sabre cuts.

GOOD SHORT STORY APPEARS EVERY DAY

The Times-Dispatch to-day inaugurates a feature which will prove entertaining to all its readers—a short story every day. And the stories are the very best to be had. Better ones will hardly be found in the high-class magazines. No newspaper in America has ever offered its readers a daily story menu of such excellence. Dozens of famous writers are represented in the list of contributors. The story printed to-day, "Favored by Misfortune," is one of Clifton Dangerfield's best. Everybody will read it with interest. To-morrow's story will be "Madge and the Camera," by J. J. Bell, famous author of the "Wee MacGregor" tales, which notwithstanding their fortune teller $150,000 within six months after publication. No British publisher would accept them, though offered as low as $50 for the lot; hence Mr. Bell was compelled to publish them himself. His success subsequently with the novels brought out by Harper and the Century Company speaks for itself. The Times-Dispatch will also include the "Wee MacGregor" stories in its short story programme, publishing one weekly, beginning in the near future.

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF RIVAL

John W. Richards is to Be Placed
On Trial in Flo-
To-day.

SHOOTING WAS FROM AMBUSH

There Were No Witnesses—The Slain Man Was On His Way to His Fiance's.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROANOKE, VA., October 15.—The trial of John W. Richards, charged with the murder of Maurice K. Francis, of Roanoke, will be called in the Floyd county Circuit Court to-morrow. Judge Moomaw, of Roanoke, presiding. The case is exciting intense interest throughout this section, largely owing to the prominence of the accused and the young man who was slain, and particularly the nature of the crime. Richards is a Floyd county teacher and a law student at the University of Virginia. The murder occurred two months ago, Francis being shot on the public road from ambush, while en route to Floyd to visit his fiancée, Miss Grace Link, to whom he was to have been married during this month. Richards was a rival suitor, and suspicion pointed to him, although there was no witness to the tragedy. He was arrested two weeks after the killing by detectives.

One hundred witnesses have been summoned, and the legal force employed makes it the most interesting legal battle ever tried in this section. The prisoner, twenty-one years of age, will be defended by Cabell and Custer, of Danville, and by A. A. Ziegler, ex-justice of the Virginia Supreme Court. H. W. Simmons, Commonwealth's Attorney, will be assisted by Samuel H. Hoge, of Roanoke, and Joseph C. Wyner, of Pulaski. A large number of Roanokers left to-day to attend the trial.

TEN THOUSAND FOR LOST SKIN

One Elk Sued Another Antlered
Brother for That Snug Amount.

FIFTY INCHES WERE TAKEN

Was Deprived of Cuticle, While Chloroformed, to Save a Fellow Elk's Wife.

(By Associated Press.)

SPOKANE, WASH., October 15.—George A. Lovejoy, an Elk, who was selected to furnish cuticle to save a fellow Elk's wife, Mrs. Fred B. Searles, suffering from severe burns, yesterday brought suit against C. P. Thomas for $10,000 as the value of fifty inches of skin, which, he says, the doctor peeled off his legs while under chloroform. Mr. Lovejoy asserts that it was represented to him that the surgeon would take only two or three strips of cuticle three or four inches long and three-fourths of an inch wide. After the operation Lovejoy found that the fronts of his limbs between knee and hip were stripped of skin, and it was ten days before he was able to leave the hospital.

Mrs. Searles was burned in an accident with a lamp at Lewiston, Idaho, and was brought to St. Luke's Hospital, Spokane, for treatment. A number of Elks volunteered to furnish cuticle to cover the burned places, but Lovejoy proved such a promising subject that while under chloroform all the skin necessary, except some supplied by Mrs. Searles' husband and brother, was peeled off.

The grafting operation was successful, but the woman was so weakened from long illness that she died.

ORDER COMES OF SEEMING CHAOS

Preparations for Entertaining President Are Nearly Complete.

WHO THE SELECT FOUR HUNDRED?

Keenest Curiosity Felt By the Public in the List of Those
Invited to Have Luncheon
With the President.
The Announcement.

With the exception of a few unimportant details, the arrangements for the reception of President Roosevelt were completed yesterday, and there is now every reason to believe that the big celebration Wednesday in honor of Richmond's distinguished guest will be successfully conducted without hitch or accident of any sort.

Out of the apparent chaos line at last came order and precision. The multiplicity of duties, divided among scores of men and involving infinite labor, together with the limited time and the natural excitement and flurry caused by the prospect of entertaining the Chief Magistrate of the land, created an appearance of hopeless confusion, arousing in some quarters a fear that the dawning of Roosevelt Day might find the city unprepared. This apprehension was not relieved by the attitude of the Council committee, which has persistently declined to make known any of its work, with the result that until a few days ago speculation and rumor constituted the sum of the public knowledge concerning a matter in which all were interested. Behind this seeming confusion, however, systematic and definite plans have been shaping themselves and are now complete. The official orders of the chief marshal issued Saturday night did much to clarify the situation, and the finishing touches were put to the arrangements yesterday. Mayor McCarthy, a hard pressed man just now, said late yesterday that he had been busily engaged during a portion of the day with details that could not be neglected until Monday, and Captain Mills announced last night that the starting point for the procession, everything was fixed at last and would go off Wednesday "like clock-work."

Tour of Inspection.

A tour of inspection of the entire route to be followed by the President during his stay of seven hours in Richmond was made yesterday by the chief of police and several members of the Council committee.

The party set out about 3:30 o'clock in a carriage. Besides Mayor Warner, Messrs. Mills, Pollock and Peters were along. At a conference with the Mayor, held before starting, the members of the committee discussed in detail of the police arrangements for the protection of the President, the managing of the crowds and the prevention of disorder of any sort. The orders of the Mayor to the chief of police in this connection were fully approved and accompanied by Mr. Wondrich, R. Meredith, chairman of the citizens' escort, which will act as guard of honor to Mr. Roosevelt during the entire time he is in the city. It has been proposed that the President's party, after having visited the monument, and the Confederate Museum and St. John's Church, should proceed to the Capitol Square where the President will be met by the representatives of the press. The assignment of guests to places at the tables at the Masonic Temple luncheon was also completed and the tickets to the dinner were distributed. The menu has been prepared and is now being printed in New York. An orchestra of stringed instruments will furnish the music for the luncheon.

Much interest has been manifested in the Temple were also issued. The menu, ordered with invitations to lunch with Mr. Roosevelt. This list is now complete, but Colonel Barton Goudy, chairman of the sub-committee on invitations, said last night that it could not be made public without formal permission from the full committee. It is expected that after the final session of the full committee to-morrow afternoon an official statement in detail of the arrangements for the entertainment of the President, including the list of those to attend the luncheon, will be given out.

Last Meeting.

The last meeting of the Council Committee on Reception will be held Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The tickets of admission to the stand from which the President will speak in the Capitol Square were issued yesterday. About 30 people will be on the stand, including the President and party, the members of the City Council and the Mayor, the Governor and other prominent State officials, the special invited guests, and the representatives of the press.

The assignment of guests to places at the tables at the Masonic Temple luncheon was also completed and the tickets to the dinner were distributed. The menu has been prepared and is now being printed in New York. An orchestra of stringed instruments will furnish the music for the luncheon.

The Children.

Among the many notable features of the demonstration in honor of the coming of the President none will attract more attention than the assemblage of 15,000 school children lined up on both sides of Broad Street for ten or twelve blocks, all
